

A photograph of a spilled beer with a blue and white striped arrow graphic pointing right, overlaid with the word 'CONTAGIOUS' in blue capital letters. The background is a white surface covered in a thick, frothy layer of beer foam. Several dark brown, metallic-looking objects, possibly bottle caps or pieces of metal, are scattered across the foam. The blue and white striped arrow graphic is a prominent feature, pointing towards the right side of the frame. The word 'CONTAGIOUS' is written in a bold, blue, sans-serif font across the lower portion of the image, partially overlapping the foam and the arrow graphic.

CONTAGIOUS

06 THE WORLD'S BEST CREATIVE

Pioneering campaigns

The most inspirational creative ideas of the quarter, from brands such as Tesco, LADbible and Coca-Cola.

33 MOST CONTAGIOUS

Special report

Contagious lays out the key issues affecting marketers, from politics to transparency, automation to modern masculinity – and highlights how brands can turn these into opportunities in 2018.

68 AUTOMATIC FOR THE PEOPLE

Retail focus

Convenience retail is developing a growing fascination for automation, intent on pioneering slick, staff-free customer experiences. Could this be the new frontline for the retail revolution, asks Katrina Dodd.

84 INTERNAL STRUGGLE

Interview / Linda Bernardi

Many businesses believe their brand is their biggest asset, but IBM's former chief innovation officer explains why it could be their greatest enemy. By Sophia Epstein.

12 THE WORLD'S BEST STRATEGY

Pioneering thinking

The strategy behind great creative ideas, including why a fashion label turned a poster ad into a statement on immigration and an insurer that opened convenience stores in the middle of nowhere.

48 REI / CO-OPTING THE OUTSIDE

Brand spotlight

How REI bucked the trend for big-box retailers to struggle in the age of ecommerce by doubling down on its mission to help Americans get the most from the outdoors. By James Swift.

73 SMALL BUT PERFECTLY FORMED

Startups and startup culture

This quarter we cover new businesses taking on some of retail's most pressing problems, such as ecommerce startup Brandless and automated mobile store Wheelys.

90 WILDFIRE

Early signals from the future

This quarter we focus on machines learning human traits, how new technologies are connecting our brains to computers and the future of DNA and security.

18 BRANDS' BEST FRIEND

Feature

Traditional loyalty schemes are worn out, predictable and no longer competitive. Kate Hollowood explores the steps brands must take to retain devoted customers.

58 BUILDING A BRAVE NEW RETAIL WORLD

Interview / Chris Tung

Alibaba's CMO discusses how the world's most successful ecommerce platform is restructuring the retail industry and using data to reboot the marketing ecosystem. By Emily Hare.

83 ALGORITHM PERSUADERS

Feature

A new kind of machine learning is turning salesmanship into a science, writes James Swift.

98 THE PHRASE THAT PAYS

Did it work?

How MailChimp gained audience awareness and positive social sentiment by appealing to creative sub-cultures.

22 BREWD OG / BREAKING BAD

Brand spotlight

BrewDog has gone from pipe dream to billion-dollar brand in just 10 years. Emily Hare looks at how the brewer is maintaining its authentic and rebellious personality as it grows in a dog-eat-dog world.

62 HOW TO BRIEF FOR CONTAGIOUS WORK

Contagious guides

Sophia Epstein speaks to world-class CMOs and highly awarded planners to find out how brands can brief their agencies to produce exceptional work.

